

CEO/Executive/Red And White Day Celebration

The Red and White day was last day of Cultural week celebrations celebrated at Khyati College of Pharmacy on 14th February, 2023. The CEO and Red and White Day celebration at the college was an incredible success. The event was held in the college with number of activities such as a keynote address by the CEO and a variety of red and white themed events. Students and faculty members of Khyati College of Pharmacy were invited on this event.

On this occasion of CEO/Executive/red and white celebration day, students take many photos with Principal Sir and all the faculty members.

Overall, the CEO and Red and White Day celebration was a great success. The students had a lot of fun and gained valuable knowledge about the company.
